Nadège Laborde appointed as Managing Director

To support its ambition, Edelris is proud to welcome Nadège Laborde as its Managing Director.

Previously serving as Business Unit President within the Novasep Group, an international CDMO and Engineering services company, Nadège brings track-proven expertise in building and implementing successful strategies, as well as in delivering the performance of the business.

Together with the Executive Committee, she will lead the structuring of the current solid growth and lead the deployment of future strategies.

This strengthening of Leadership goes with recent major investments done at Edelris in EDEN (Edelris Discovery ENgine) through the AS-MS platform and the expansion of the Keymical Space™ collection, aimed at best serving innovative biotech and pharma companies in their goal to address unmet therapeutic needs.
